

September 13 – 14, 2008

Our mission is to promote sustainable practices, renewable energy use, and environmental responsibility in the way we work, play, and live.

Presentation Proposal

Thank you for your interest in teaching a workshop or making a presentation at the 2008 SLRE Roundup. In order for the committee to evaluate your ideas, please complete the information below and return it by July 1st.

Workshops and presentations should focus on specific actions individuals and households can take on their own in order to achieve a more sustainable lifestyle and support a green marketplace. From Permaculture and renewable energy, to green construction and environmentally friendly transportation, the workshops/presentations can cover a range of ideas. We are most interested in classes that build enthusiasm for sustainable living. Hands-on demonstrations are encouraged.

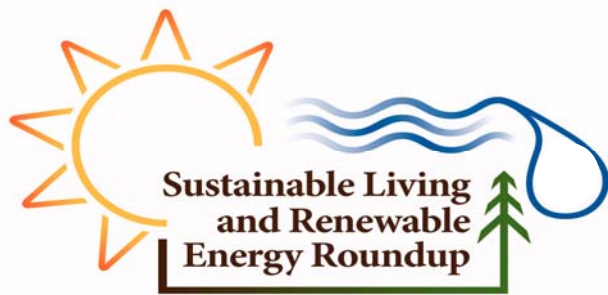

Workshops and presentations that showcase sustainable actions by larger groups, such as communities, businesses, schools, etc., are also welcome. They may touch on the negative aspects of typical consumer products, services, and behaviors, but should focus on the positive ways citizen action can change the market and political barriers to grow the green marketplace.

Workshops and presentations are not “sales pitches” for a particular product. If you have a product to sell, please consider purchasing a booth.

The 45 minute sessions will start on the hour, beginning at 10am, on both Saturday and Sunday. We recommend you allow 30 minutes for presentation and 15 minutes for questions and discussion. The remaining 15 minutes will be used for transition between workshops.

Please provide your own copies (recycled paper of course!) of any handouts you’d like to give participants. The size of the audience is hard to predict, but we’d expect 15-30 attendees at each session. If you’ve written a book on the subject, feel free to bring copies to sign and sell.
